Foreword

The year 1950 impresses the thinking person that indeed "Time rolls its ceaseless course." This year puts the period, or question mark, or exclamation point at the end of the first half of the Twentieth Century. Beginning in 1951 Man will try to do a better job of living than he did during the first half of the century. Atomic bombs and hydrogen bombs-wars and rumors of wars-will force him to look sharp. In addition, 1950 represents the end of a decade which has witnessed a catastrophic war. Most important for Newark High School and the Newark public schools, however, is the fact that 1949-50 represents the first year of a second century of public education in this city. With the advent of this new century, many thoughtful people hope that greater, more glorious accomplishments will be achieved and that Father Time will be able to record in his big book that citizens coming from Newark High School have represented the highest ideals for which mankind strives.

One of the objectives of our junior high school is to insure for all children an equal opportunity to participate in the program and activities. For this reason we founded our home-room hasketball league. In this league any boy who has an interest in basketball, and a desire to play, may take part in the games. Participation is encouraged regardless of skill

More than a hundred boys compete in our home-room basketball program which begins in early December and continues through Febmary

Games are played after school

Members of the "C" or letter club act as officials. Boys who are playing regularly on the varsity, reserve, or lightweight teams are not permitted to play.

This year the ninth grade homeroom team of Miss Margaret Hutchinson won the championship, finishing a ten-game schedule undefeated

Home-room cheerleaders are always present for the contests, and the balcomes are usually filled with fans who cheer for their home-room.

The program is under the direction of Coach William Olmsted, assisted by Mr. Paul Robinson.

The athletic program of Lincoln Junior High School is geared to foster the development and perpetuation of school traditions. It encourages good sportsmanship not only on the part of the participants but also on the part of all spectators toward the contestants. The physical-activities program constitutes one of the most effective means of creating and sustaining good community relations.

Under the direction of Joseph Carlo, boys' physical-education teacher, Lincoln basketball teams have enjoyed a particularly successful year. Lightweight, Reserve, and Varsity teams won city championships.

CHANGE ABOUT

The Home Economics — Industrial Arts courses at Wilson Junior High School, under the direction of Miss Edith Myer and Mr. Robert Deafenbaugh, have devised a new program whereby girls and boys change classrooms and teachers for a six-week period, one day a week

Thus we find in the pictures above girls being instructed in problems of household mechanics. They learn to sharpen knives, repair electric-cord connections and to use simple tools about the house

The boys, on the other hand, are learning to make use of prepared mixes in the baking of cakes, biscuits, coffee rolls, etc., as well as preparing a table and practicing the art of serving meals. They are receiving instructions in pressing their clothes, sewing on buttons, and making other minor repairs.

This practical experience is proving helpful as well as quite interesting to both teacher and pupil. The office force also from time to time enjoys some very fine samples

ANNUAL STAFF

The school annual is published to replace the bulky scrapbooks kept by individual students. Nevertheless, the yearbook is more than a collection of names and pictures, with an occasional write-up included for good measure; it is a record of the school year The annual is not only intended for the graduating class but also for underclassmen and citizens who are interested in school life or who sense the listorical significance of such a publication. Its chief value, however. is its personal characteristic, with its pages filled with names and faces. seenes and events of daily school life -items that alumni love to recall years hence. The theme, which gives the book unity, is a device that harmonizes artwork, photography, articles and general design

The annual staff is under the direction of Gordon R. Kingery. It is composed of juniors and seniors, chosen during the sophomore year to serve for two years, and consists, this year, of nine members. They have attempted to produce a volume that editorially and pictorially would give an accurate account of the school year. Members met the seventh period each day.

BUSINESS STAFF

The Business Staff was organized the first of December to solicit advertisers for the Reveille Annual. Each member was assigned several advertisers whom he personally saw. The soliciting of ads and collecting of money is a valuable experience. Through this contact with the business world, a student develops the ability to meet and deal with other people. He also gains confidence in himself

Since this staff secures advertisements which partly finance the annual, it is somewhat responsible for the success and quality of the book

PATRON STAFF

The Patron Staff was organized to aid the Reveille Business Staff in financing the Reveille Annual. The purpose of this staff is to increase the Annual budget so that the yearbook can be sold at the same price, although the cost of production has risen. The members are given names of various citizens of the community whom they seek personally for contributions. The names of these contributors have been placed on the Patron Page.

The organization was formed after all possible aspects of financing had been studied. Mr. Stoeckmann is the adviser for the group, which is in its second year of existence.

The room agents are those students in each home room who collect money for subscriptions to the Reveille News and the Reveille Annual. At the beginning of each school year two students are chosen from each home room to carry out the duties of agents All of the room agents meet with Mr Stoeckmann, their adviser, to receive instructions in their work

The first semester they collect subscriptions for the Reveille News, and the second semester, for the Reveille Annual. They are also in charge of distributing these publications. In addition, they collect various funds from the home rooms

Being a room agent gives a student a sense of responsibility and helps de velop a better sense of business ability

The Journalism Staff plays a very important part in the curriculum of the school. Each week they publish the Reveille News. This paper gives accounts of all school activities in cluding important problems, a fun column, and a calendar of coming events.

In addition to publishing this paper, the staff writes articles concerning school activities for the Newark Advocate. In this way the people of Newark are able to read of the activities being carried out at Newark High School. The staff also is in charge of the bulletin board in the main hall

Students study a standard text book for their work in addition to the New York Times. They receive a half unit of credit for a year's work in this subject.

This year Joyce Butler was editor; Don Ruschaupt was sports editor; Ann Dupler and Augusta Lucas were in the groof of the fun column; Jane Campbell at it the art work; Wanda McPeek and Marilyn Gamble were the typists Patricia Pyle wrote news of girls sports; and Shirley Coyle, Carol Cochran, Ruth Huff, Patricia Myer, and Sue Nees were reporters. Miss Bertha Crilly was the adviser of the group.

PRODUCTION STAFF

The Production Staff is responsible for publishing the Reveille News. The members type the stencils from the dummy submitted by the Journalism class. They mimeograph these stencils and distribute the papers to the home rooms. In addition to this, they learn how to use the Monroe Burrough, and Comptometer calculators, the Dictaphone, the Ditto, and adding machines. They also do typing and mimeographing for teachers.

The advisers are Miss Headlee and Miss Morgan.

COLLEGE CLUB

The problem of choosing a college is uppermost in the minds of many seniors. To help solve this problem the College Club was organized Representatives of various colleges gave information concerning the requirements, expenses, social and scholastic advantages of their respective schools. In addition, the club had a book review and took vocabulary tests

The club not only helped students in the selection of a college but also helped prepare students for college At the beginning of the year, representatives came from the large statcolleges such as Ohio University and Ohio State University. Later small er liberal arts colleges such as Wittenberg and Otterbein sent representatives

Officers were Joyce Butler, president; Sue James, vice president, Marilyn Edris, secretary; Nancy Lally treasurer. The club was under the direction of Miss Bertha Crilly

IT'S HI TIME

The radio program this year has been unique in several particulars: first, the entire list of episodes was set up during the late summer, and the series was typed and made ready for distribution at the regular general meeting of teachers, September 3: second, provision was made for every division of the public school system of our city to be on the air during the shool year; third, a series of special broade sts was provided, including a special N.F.L. program commemorating the silver anniversary of that organization, November 2, a dual debate with teams from Wyoming High School, held the afternoon of December 17; the presentation of Joe Johnson, a senior, in a telecast over WTVN, Columbus, the afternoon of March 12; and the program furnished by the glee club of St. Francis de Sales High School on March 15

The series was arranged with due consideration first of all for special days. Armistice, Thanksgiving, Christmas New Years, Lincoln's Birthday Wishington's Birthday, St. Patrick's Day, Easter, Mother's Day, and Memorial Day. Next, care was exercised to give ample time for the expression of good music through programs by the Music Appreciation group, and by other programs sponsored by the instrumental and vocal departments of our school.

The opening episodes of the year, 'So you're a Sophomore," were aired with a view to help impress on the minds of the incoming groups from the junior high schools some of the suggestions included in the recent publication of the Student Council, So You're a Sophomore. The remaining spots on the program were arbitrarily assigned to the various junior-high and elementary schools of the city system.

Credit for the success of the program this year goes especially to Mr. Ragle, Program Director at WCLT; to Miss Joan Patton, Assistant Director of our school radio work; to Chandler Waggoner, president of our Student Council, and official announcer; to Paul Clifton, chairman of the radio committee; to Margie Miller, official announcer of social news; to Leon Richey, sports announcer; to Karl Gelfer, special debate announcer: to the Department of Music, headed by Mr. Myron Pearce; to the principals and teachers in the Newark school system; and above all to the young people who have participated in the programs.

As Director of the school radio program for the past three years, I take this opportunity to thank you one and all for your splendid cooperation.

Sincerely, C. P. Smith.

Because of the pre-season study of the current debate topic and the subsequent presentation of the main issues over WCLT last May, the debate squads this years were enabled to start their season early on the question: Resolved, That the President of the United States should be elected by a direct vote of the people

A non-decision clash with Denison freshmen. October 24, served as a tune-up for the Newark tournament held in the local senior high school on November 5. Here all 15 members of the squads received much-needed practice, the sophomores winning four out of six tries; the varsity scoring two wins, while suffering four defeats

On December 10 the regular annual debate clinic and fournament for western Ohio was held in Pomerene and Derby Halls. Ohio State University. Newark's record was seven wins in twelve starts. Again, the sophomores stood out in front winning six in eight tries, and tving with Marvsville for first place in their division

A third tournament in which Newark teams were entered was held at Willis High School, Delaware, January 14. Here the varsity won three debates out of six, while the sophomores walked away with five wins and one loss, tying with Dayton Oakwood and Delaware Willis.

The last practice tournament in which Newark debaters participated was held in Athens Senior High School February 12. Twelve debates were entered, the local teams winning five, four of which must be credited to the sophomore teams, who tied with Athens and Davton Fairmont for second place

During the entire practice season, Newark debaters took part in 72

judged debates. Of these, 35 were wins; and of these 35 the sophomores accounted for 24

Highlights of this year's debating included the defeat in the Delaware tournament of the formidable Dayton Oakwood first team by the local affirmative team composed of Margaret Miller and Marilyn Brooks; the outstanding work of the sophomore group resulting in a 100% membership in the N.F.L.; and the dual debate over WCLT with Wyoming, a suburb of Cincinnati, on December 17. In this contest the Newark affirmative defeated a very strong negative Wyoming team, while in the adjoining studio the local negative team lost a close decision to our visitors. Speakers on this occasion were affirmative. Lucile Tyrer, Margaret Miller and Ron Holdbrook; negative, Nancy Haines and Ron Richter, Dr. Lionel Crocker, Speech Department of Denison, and Russell Tower of the local Toastmasters' Club served as judges The Oregon style of debating was used

For the first time in our debate history Newark entered an all-sophomore team in the District Tourney, held at Ohio State University Saturday, February 25. Each team won one debate: from the affirmative from Marietta the negative from Delaware, placing third in a group of six schools.

On Sunday, March 12, over WTVN, Columbus, Joseph Johnson participated in a panel discussion of school problems. He was the first student outside Franklin County to be invited to broadcast on this televised program.

The year closed with the presentation of certificates and letters over the air, and the regular debate banquet held at Hull Place.

Football Summation

In August, 1949, before the opening of school, Mr. Bay Schick, head football mentor, stated in an address before the Optimists' Club that Coshocton would be the team in the CO.L. to beat, with Lancaster running a close second. Mr. Schick's prophesy proved contect in regard to Lancaster, but his sights were just a trifle too far to the northward as to the team to defeat. The Schickmen prescrated an inspiring season of football and indicated a repetition of the performance of the great 1948 aggregation. However, the most dreaded athletic disease set in during one week-end, the disease of overconfidence, and the Zanesville Blue Devils handed the pigskin Wildcats their only defeat of the season Nevertheless, the 1949 ensemble was a superfor team in spite of the loss, for not only did it prove itself capable in all other contests but also played a ten-game schedule, ending the season by defeating Luther Haushue's boys from Toledo De Vilbiss. Schick's lads earned 295 points for the season against their opponents' 91.

On September 3, Newark opened its unofteal season in a preview exhibition by deteating Marion Harding 6 to 0. On September 9, in a second practice game, a much improved Wildcat aggregation defeated Columbus West 27 to 7. The first game of the rega-lar season was played September 16.

Basketball Summation

With only one veteran and senior, Gene Watson, from the 1949 squad, Maxwell Kipp Douglas faced the 1950 basketball season with one of the youngest aggregations he had ever sent to the floor. Two, and sometimes three, sophomores saw first-string duty. In fact, one of these, James Cromer, participated throughout the entire season, Ronald Shockley was moved up from the Reserves, on January 27, to bolster the waning power of the varsity in its duel with Dover. He was a regular varsity courtman from that date. Charles Deeds, who started the season with the Varsity, was moved to the Reserves at midseason, was brought back to the Varsity again, but was again a Reserve by the end of the season

Junior members of the Douglas aggregation were George Riley, Thomas Patrick Riley Robert Sims, Ronald Foote, Richard Harmon, Larry Campbell, Jerry Steele, and Charles Dennis. Of these, Sims, Foote, G. Riley, and Harmon performed a wildcat's share of the season's duties. I. Riley, who displayed erratic performance at the beginning of the season, caught fire toward the conclusion of the schedule and appeared more frequently on the floor.

According to Bob Worth, Advocate sports editor, in his "Worthy Notes," for March 11 1950, the basketball farm system, which nourished the state championship teams for 1936. 1938 and 1943, may be backfiring on its creators, It has been copied extensively by other Ohio teams, and manifestly they have passed the Mound City. Douglas indicates that the weakness lies in the fact that other activities in junior high school have crowded basket ball off the floors. Worth concludes: "The current players aren't to be criticized in any manner. They just don't get the individual attention Newark High cagers did ten years ago. Toward the end of the this season, Head Coach Max Douglas of the Wildcats had his players drilling on easy layup shots, a thing they should have mastered completely three vears ago

"Newark will have a veteran squad back next winter. No doubt, the Wildeats will improve their won-and-lost record. The 'Cats, however, must pick up some elever tricks fakes and feints—before they can set the world on fire.

Not since 1922 had the familiar "play ball heralded the opening of a hardball season on a diamond of Newark High School until the spring of 1949. And for a while weather conditions conspired to forbid the hardballers to begin even at the opening of this season Rain, chief heckler of spring sports in Newark halted the first three attempts at play

The season officially opened at 7:30 in the evening of April 14, under the lights at Arnold Park, with Lancaster as the 'Cat opponent At the top of the third with an interesting 3-to-3 tie, a brisk thunder storm entered the park and drove everyone home. A second try with Lancaster was also rained out. On April 22 a game with Columbus East was stopped because of rain. Finally, on April 27, the Cats were able to play a double-header with Lan Winning three and losing seven, the Longmen showed spark and tenacity throughout the season. Coached by A. B. Long and captained by Richard Johnston, the team showe! immigral spirit against odds of inexperience and opponents who had the advantage of former seasons.

caster at Rising Park.

Newark defeated Chilheothe 2 to 1, Cambridge 2 to 1, and Coshocton 6 to 0. Winning pitchers in the contests were Johnston, with one, and Robert Barnes, with two, The 'Cats lost games to Laucaster (2), Chillicothe, Columbus Central (in the Central District Tournament in Columbus), Zanesville (2), and Coshocton.

Seniors who graduated and who were able to play one season only since the renaissance of the game were Johnston, David Mickley Richard Benner, Keith Harbit, Edward Ryan, Larry Catrell, Richard Betz, and Orville Baughman
